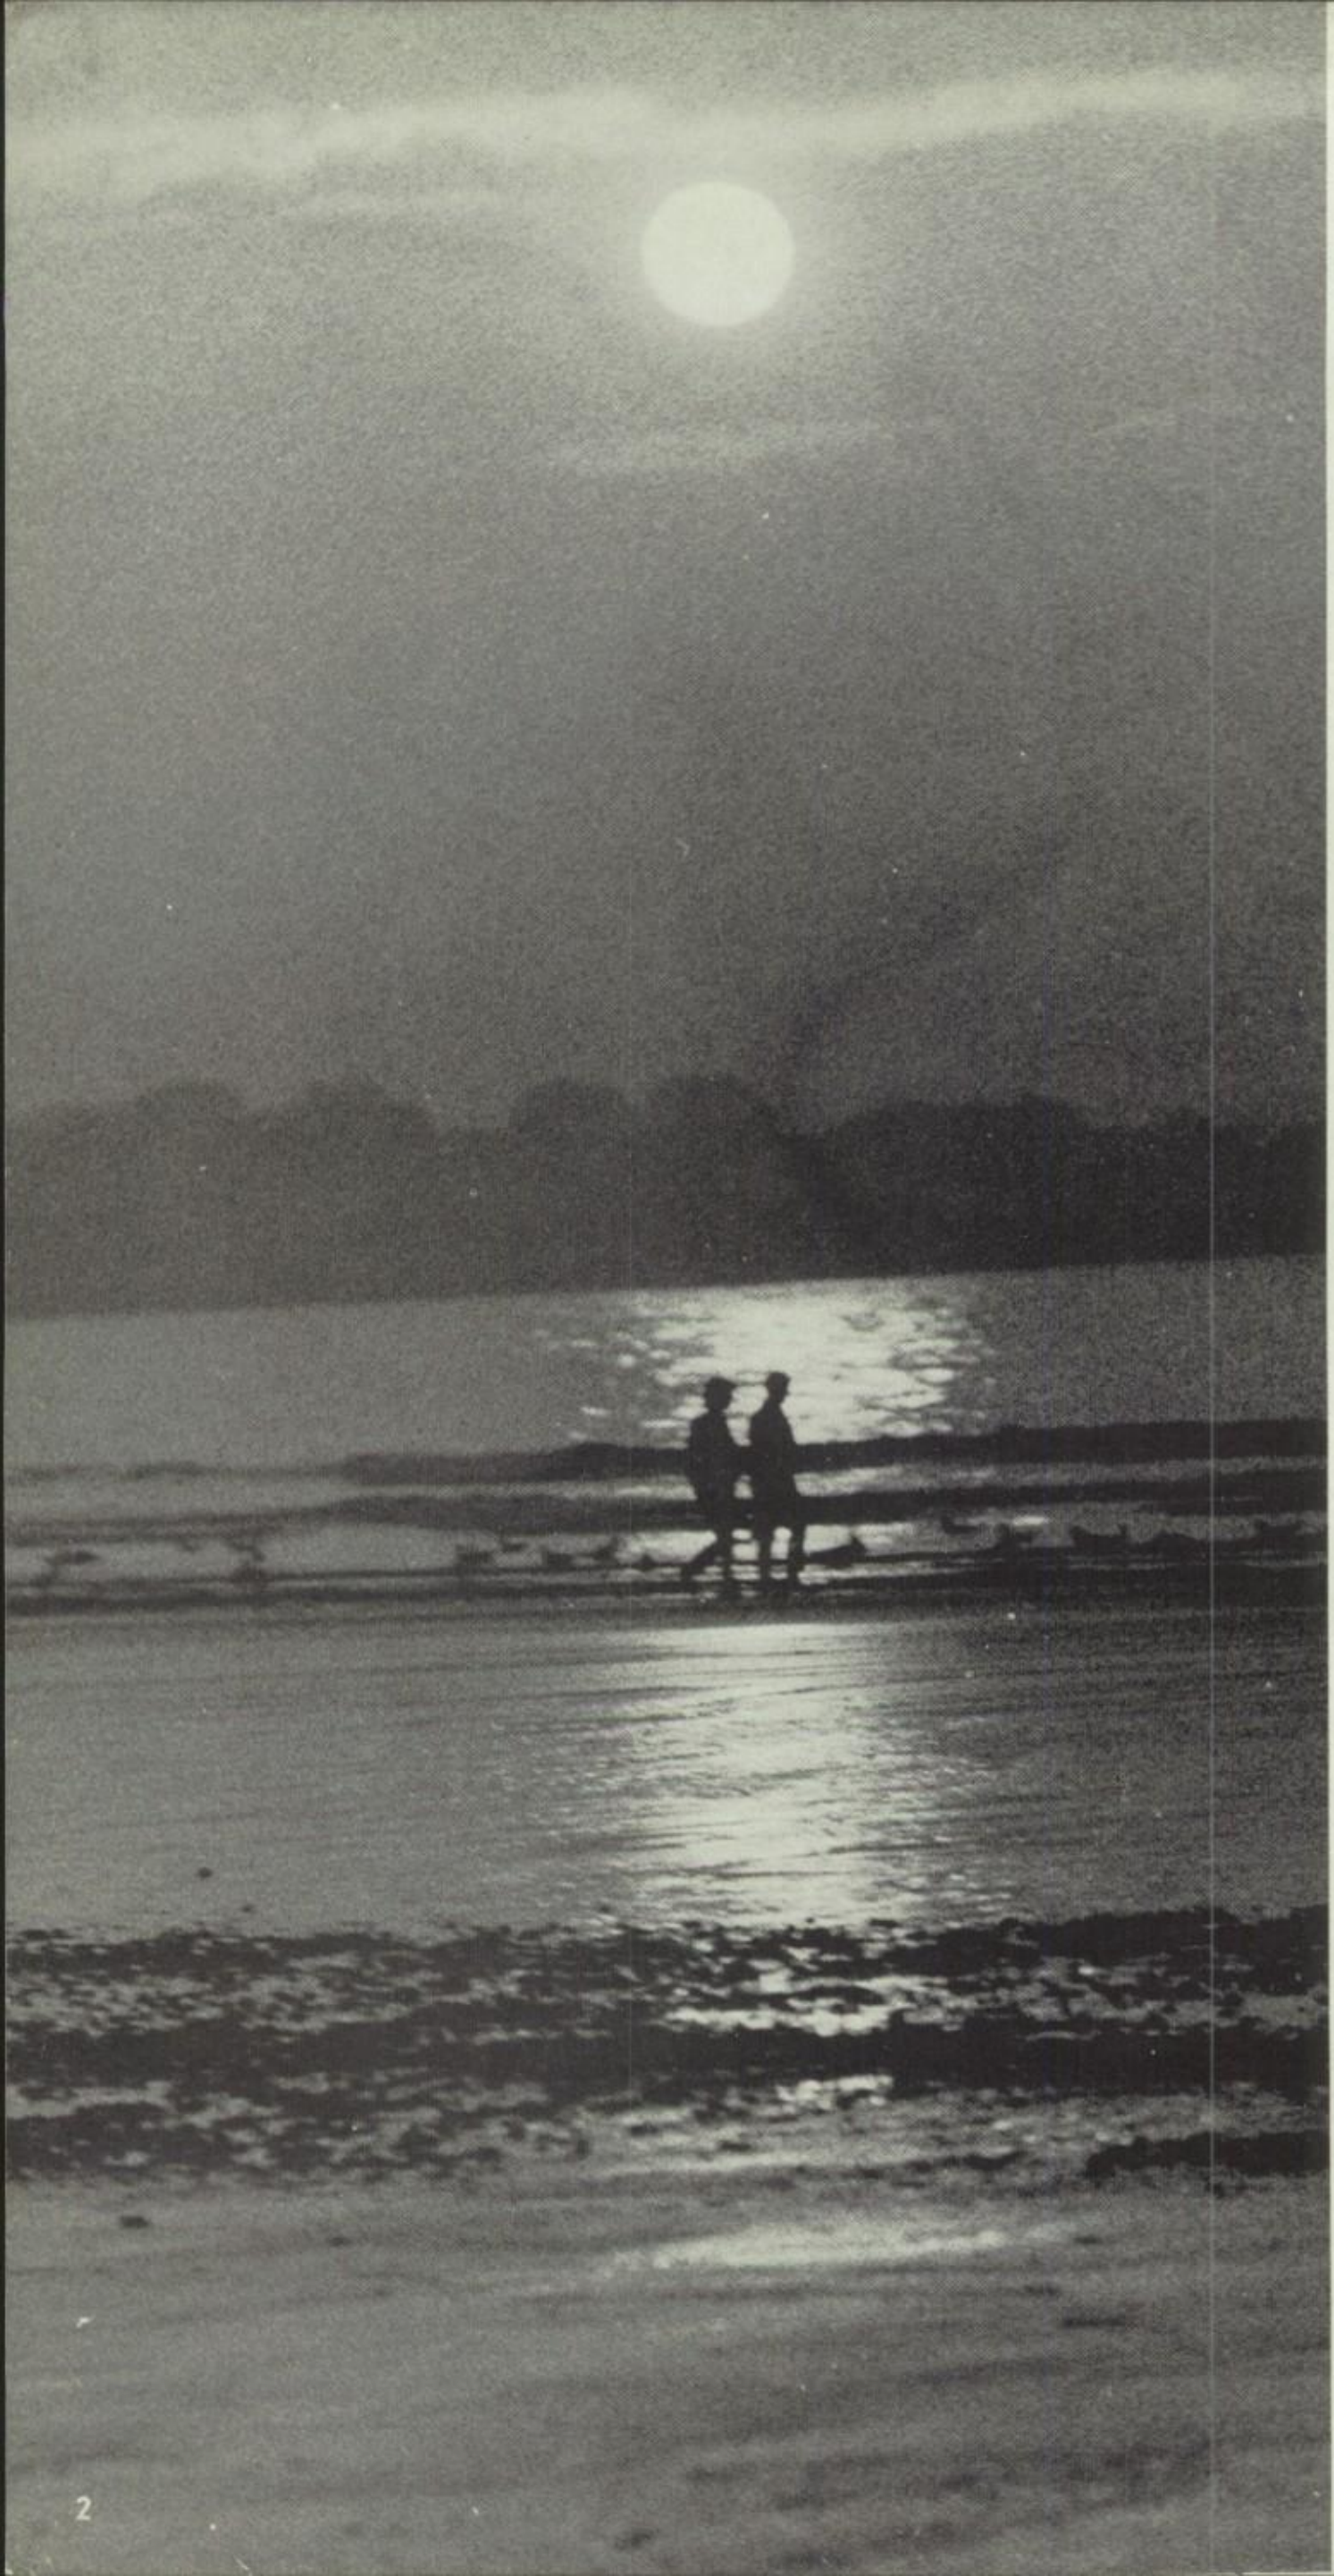
Volume XXV



As surely as the sun rises each morning, a "new dawn" rose for St. Dominic Regional High School in 1968. The entire school system was greatly strengthened by the improvements that were made.

St. Dom's has now joined the large majority of co-education high schools in our country. For the first time in the school's history, boys and girls study together and participate in the same school organizations.

This dawn has brought together an outstanding faculty, including sisters, brothers, and lay teachers, dedicated to providing us with the best education possible. It has also given us a strong administration, led by our headmaster and our principal and vice-president.

The different school departments have been revised, and highly qualified department heads have been appointed. These departments now rank among the top in the state.

But besides these improvements, this "new dawn" has also brought hopes for a bright and promising future for St. Dom's. With God's help, we who are leaving, as well as those of us who remain, will find in our hearts that this "new dawn" will never set, but that it will radiate ever-increasing progress for St. Dominic's.

It is our sincere desire that those students who will have the privilege of following us in this outstanding institution of learning will benefit as much as we have, from this bright "new dawn."

St. Dominic's takes on new appearance

The physical features of St. Dom's also portray a "new dawn." In the senior division, two former classrooms were converted into offices. One consists of the general office and the principal's office while the other was converted into offices for the guidance director and the headmaster. Glass doors were purchased to separate the senior division from the elementary school. Another major change is the conversion of two classrooms into lounges for the juniors and seniors respectively. In addition, drinking fountains and lockers were installed. An honor role board contributed by the students now ornaments the halls of the Senior Division.

Likewise, the evidence of a new dawn is readily seen in the Junior Division. Part of the former physics laboratory houses the guidance department, while a girls' washroom occupies the former chemistry lab.

Many changes have also improved the Science Department. A physical science laboratory was constructed in the Junior Division. $4,000 worth of new equipment now occupies the shelves of the modern physics and chemistry labs in the Senior Division.

Due to this renovation, the 1968-69 school year was delayed for 3 days while workmen finalized last-minute details.

Brother Gilbert Chamberlain, S.C. adds a final touch to the Senior Division.

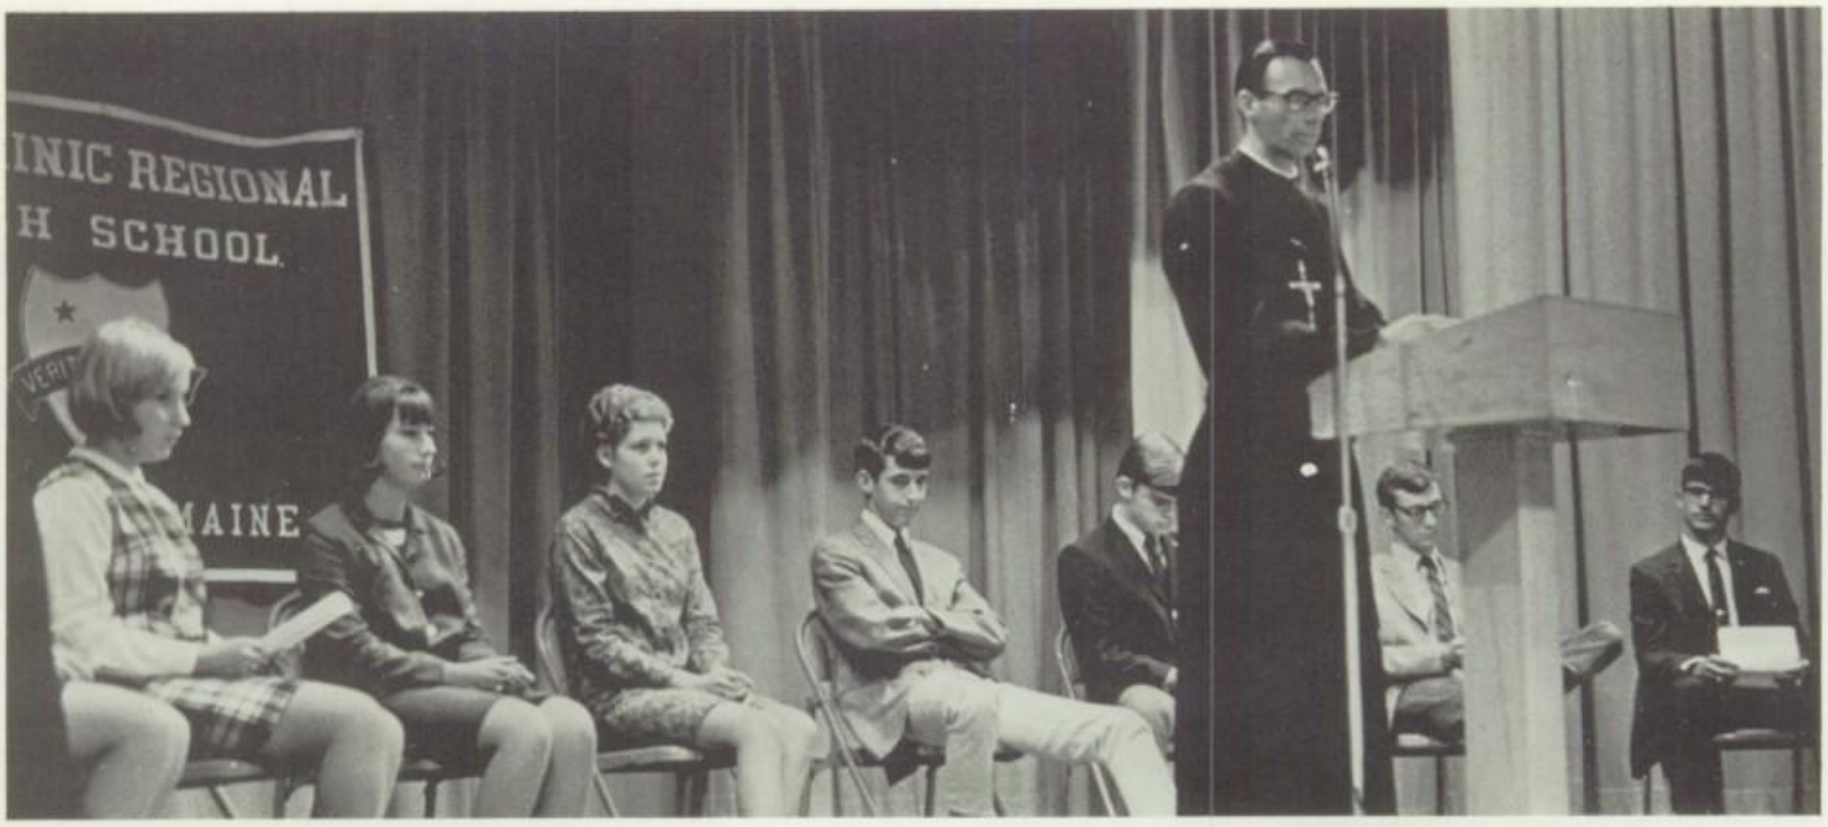
Doors open wide

On September 9, 1968, after a three-day delay for repairs, St. Dominic Regional High School opened its doors as a co-educational institution for the first time.

At the opening assembly, Brother Richard Boucher, S.C., introduced ten new faculty members, including eight nuns, Brother Richard Chamberlain, S.C., and Mrs. Jo-Anne Lapointe. Father Girouard, headmaster was then introduced and spoke briefly.

The McBee cards were distributed and over 400 students were assigned to their respective homerooms. Following a dry run of periods, school was dismissed for the day.

Confusion prevails as students examine their McBee cards. This was the first time that the McBee system was tried in the school.



Brother Cormier explains the duties of the Student Council President while the candidates await their turn to speak.

Students elect prexy

Though the school year was slow in getting underway, the task of choosing representatives to the Student Council began the following week. Eight seniors were nominated by the Senior class to run for President and Vice-President. After a small campaign, the nominees spoke at a school assembly. Elections were held on September 20. On September 23, it was announced that Paul Gosselin was elected President, and Sue Baribault Vice-President.

Toward the end of September, the soccer team, led by Captain Peter Beaulieu, began a seemingly successful year. Attendance increased. For the first time in the school's history, the cheerleaders attended the soccer games.

The Dance Committee, headed by Phillip Perreault, sponsored three dances; on September 20, on October 12, and on October 26, featuring "Alpha", "Sawdust", and "Terry and the Telstars."

Paulette Dugal, co-chairman of the Dance Committee, dances to the music of the Alpha.

Elections draw student interest; service clubs are very active

The months of November and December provided the students with a wide range of activities.

Early in November, students displayed an active interest in the national elections. The First Quarterly Exams were held on November 6, 7, 8. "Sawdust" entertained at the fourth dance of the year, on November 23. On November 27, the Key Club held its annual Model Assembly. On the evening of Saturday, November 30, the Christian Action group sponsored a spaghetti supper at St. Peters' School cafeteria.

Saints look promising in Round Robin

On December 5, our hockey team participated in the Round Robin, placing second with a record of two wins, two ties, and no losses. This was preceded by the year's first bonfire rally. A first Friday Folk Mass was on December 6, in St. Peters' Hall. The debate team sponsored the annual Debate tournament in December 7. "Alpha" provided entertainment at the Christmas Dance, on December 14. The new lockers arrived at the Senior Division a week later. The Drama Club put on its first production, "Hip Hippie Hooray", a three-act play, on Sunday evening December 22. The Christmas assembly was held on December 23, where the winners of the Future Teachers' Club "Odd Couple" contest were announced. Then, twenty-two Christmas baskets prepared by the students, were distributed among the poor of the Twin Cities. The month's activities ended with a ski trip to Saddleback in Rangeley.

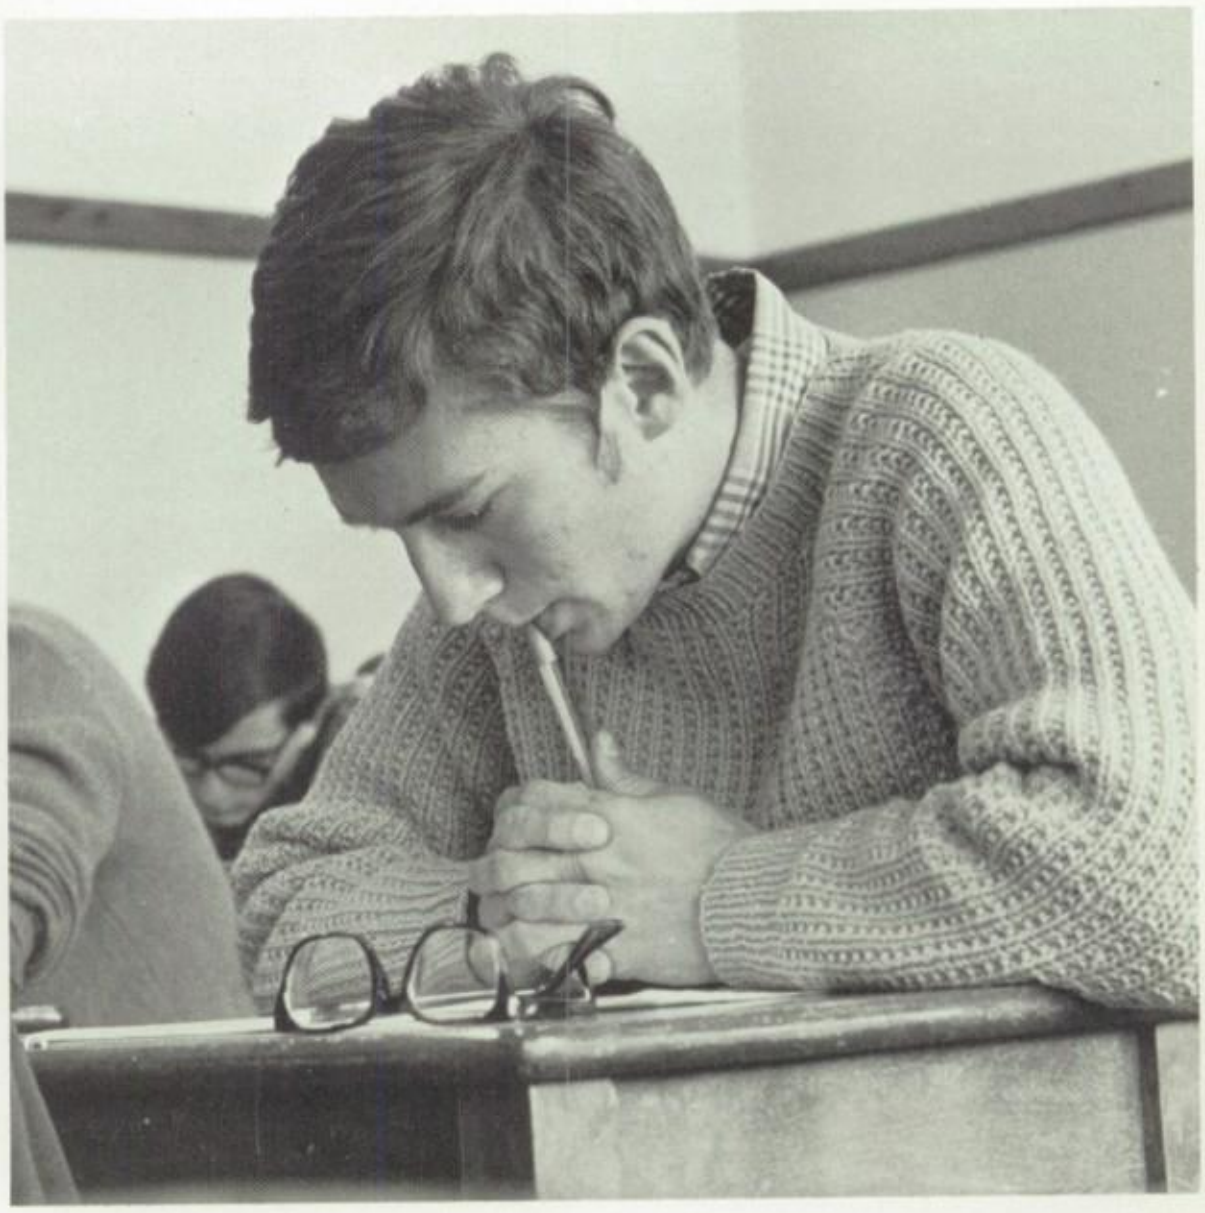
On Friday, January 24, Mr. Don Ngoumen, a Bates College student originally from Cameroon spoke to the Seniors at the request of the French Club.



Semester Exams was everyone's major concern in January as is well depicted by Reginald Mailhot.

On February 6, a Social Studies Workshop was held at St. Dom's. Guest speaker was Mr. Donald Frizzle, co-author of "Discovering America."

Students welcome '69

The students said good-bye to 1968, with a New Year's Eve Party held at Paul Gosselin's house and sponsored by the Interact Club. Two weeks later on January 15, 16, 17, the students were faced with mid-year exams. A dance was then sponsored on January 18 with Sawdust providing the night's entertainment. On January 23 the cheerleaders organized a pep rally to boost school spirit for the St. Dom's vs. Lewiston game.

The Senior Retreat to Augusta on February 3 marked the beginning of events of the month of February. A history workshop was organized on February 6 with a special guest, Mr. Donald Frizzle, the co-author of an American History book. Students were granted a day's vacation when the biggest snowstorm in 16 years hit the Central Maine area on February 10. The end of the Winter Carnival held February 12-15 marked the beginning of a week's vacation where the approaching science fair and the Echo deadline were the centers of activity.

"Blizzard of Hearts," coronation ball theme

Our annual Winter Carnival was held from February 12 to the 15, with "A Blizzard of Hearts" serving as the theme.

The events began at the arena on Wednesday morning with the girls and boys of the respective classes playing hockey against each other. The girls were allowed to wear skates and to use sticks, but the boys were handicapped. The boys were victorious in the "battle of the sexes," beating the girls in all four games.

The climax of the day's activity was a regular hockey encounter between the faculty and the senior boys. The seniors downed the faculty by a score of 4-2.

"Tomorrow's Society" presented the first of this year's hootenannies on Friday, February 14, as part of the Winter Carnival festivities. Also present at the Folk Festival were the "Chord Majority", the "Folklore", and the "Melodians."

The Coronation Ball, held on February 15, highlighted the Winter Carnival. The six senior girls chosen by the senior class to be candidate for Queen were: Suzanne Baribault, Rachel Drouin, Monique Gendron, Louise Gelinas, Diane Jalbert, and Doreen Parent. The evening began with the procession of the candidates and their escorts. Miss Suzanne Baribault was then crowned Winter Carnival Queen. The Crowning Ceremony was then followed by the Grand March, the Receiving Line, and Her Majesty's Dance. The ball was concluded with public dancing for all.

Paul Dussault, Norm Croteau and Richard St. Hilaire decorate the stage.

Rachel Drouin sings the verses of "Turn, Turn, Turn" as Bob Drouin, Aleta Saunders and Phil Gagne harmonize in the background.

Doms enter tourney in 4th spot; finish 2nd

After returning from the winter recess, students in the area were given four more days of vacation due to a great snowstorm which dumped more than 32 inches. This storm which topped the 80 year record set in 1888, paralyzed many sections of the state, forcing the closing of schools and business. However, the Maine State Annual Schoolboy Tournament was not postponed. The opening games of the tourney were held at the Bowdoin Arena in Brunswick on March 3, with Brunswick vs. Waterville in the first game, and St. Dom's vs. Lewiston in the second game. Both Waterville and Lewiston emerged victors of the night's activities. Tournament action was then resumed at the CMYC in Lewiston on March 4. The first game, between Waterville and Lewiston, found the mighty Panthers emerging as victors over LHS. St. Dom's then went on to score a win over Brunswick. As a result of their two losses, the Brunswick team was eliminated from further action. On Thursday, March 6, St. Dom's went into battle against the Lewiston Blue Devils, in a game of do or die, for a chance to play the undefeated Panthers. The Dom's downed the Blue Devils by a score of 3-1. On March 8, Waterville defeated St. Dom's, and thus became the Maine Schoolboy Hockey Champs of 1969. St. Dom's received the trophy for first runner-up.

Dennis Michaud wins the chemistry trophy for his project entitled "The Mercury Hexacynoferrate (II)."

Daniel Lebrun and Paul Giguere win the Father Fiset Trophy for their project on the "Effects of Acceleration on the Growth of the Bean Plant."

Gerard Casavant and Roland Moreau explain their prize winning project about "Viscosity."

Giguere, Lebrun win highest honors

St. Dominic Regional High School held its annual Science Fair at St. Peter's Hall from March 5 through 8. In all, 121 projects covering the fields of physical science, biology, chemistry, and physics were on display. The judging took place on Wednesday evening, March 5.

On Thursday, 862 elementary school students from St. Louis and Sacred Heart School of Auburn, and Holy Cross, St. Patricks, St. Joseph's, and St. Peter's Schools of Lewiston were guests.

Friday evening from seven to nine p.m. the projects were displayed to the public with the winners being announced at that time.

The winners in each division were as follows: Physical Science: Gerry Casavant and Roland Moreau, "Viscosity;" Biology: Paul Guigere and Daniel Lebrun, "The Effects of Acceleration on the Growth of the Bean Plant;" Chemistry: Dennis Michaud, "The Mercury Hexacyanoferrate (II);" Complex Physics: Roger Bergeron and Donat Boisvert, "The Determination of the Half-Life of Thoron Gas Emanated from Thorium Oxide."

The Father Fiset Award, given to the student with the outstanding project, was presented to Daniel Lebrun and Paul Giguere.

Several students were also representatives at the Western Regional Science Fair at Oxford Hills High School, on March 15.

In the category of Biology were: Paul Guigere, Daniel Lebrun, Gerald Worthington, Gerald Pleau, Jeanne Carrier, Robert Drouin, Dennis Morin, and Larry Saucier; Chemistry: Dennis Michaud, Paul Beauchesne, John Allain, John Whyman, Stephen Allen, Denise Berube, Pamela Proulx; Physics: Robert Asselin, Maurice Plourde, Francis Martel, Roland Moreau, and Gerald Castonguay.

Students encounter hectic schedule in latter part of school year

Last-minute preparation for the Science Fair introduced the month of March this year. At the request of the students, the Science Department postponed the fair from March 3rd to March 5th, 6th and 7th. Several weeks later, on March 22, the juniors received their long awaited rings in a special ceremony at the annual Ring Dance.

Students took the third-quarter exams on April 2, 3 and 4. Spring Vacation began two weeks later, on April 14. On the night of April 14th, Sister Solange, head of the French Department presented a French play, Les Precieuses Ridicules by Moliere, in conjunction with surrounding area schools. Saturday, April 26th, Brother Raymond Latour sponsored a Christian Action "Spring Fling."

In April, for the first time in the school's history, Brother Laflamme, athletic director, organized a girl's tennis team. This team was the foundation on which next year's team will be built.

On May 1, the student body, and the faculty joined to pay tribute to Brother Francis on his 50th anniversary as a professed brother. The following week, May 5th through May 7th, was designated as Senior Week. The seniors spent Monday and Tuesday at the Junior Division, and Wednesday and Thursday at the Senior Division. Senior Week closed on May 9th, with Judgement Day. Wednesday, May 14th, the National Honor Society held its induction ceremony at St. Joseph's Auditorium. The following Tuesday, May 20th, the Future Nurses and Future Teachers clubs sponsored a very successful Card Party and Style Show at the K of C Hall. St. Dom's held its annual Awards Night the following evening, Wednesday, May 21, at St. Joseph's Auditorium. Tomorrow's Society, St. Dom's folk group, entertained in various locations in and around Lewiston throughout the months of April and May. To climax the month's events, the Junior-Senior Prom was held on May 29th. The theme of this year's prom was Camelot.

During the first week of June, the Seniors wrote their final exams on May 29, June 1 and 2. Old Orchard was the scene of their picnic, held the following day. Most students could be found preparing for the final exams which took place on June 9th, 10th and 11th. June 9th was also the date of the Senior Banquet, held at Happy Jacks. The Graduation Mass was celebrated on June 8th, and Graduation Exercises were held the following Tuesday, June 10th. On June 13th, the underclassmen received their report cards and the 1968-69 scholastic year came to an end.

Brother Alphonse Jutras, S.C. renews vows on occasion of his 50th anniversary

The entire student body along with all the faculty members, and guests, including Bishop Peter L. Gerety, joined together to pay tribute to Brother J. P. Alphonse Jutras S.C., on the occasion of his 50th anniversary as a brother and 25th anniversary as a teacher at St. Dom's. The celebrations, which took place on May 1 began with an assembly at which time the students, represented by Sue Baribault, presented Brother with a gift of money as a token of their appreciation. Following this presentation, Brother Richard Boucher, principal, and Father Robert Girouard, headmaster, congratulated Brother Francis for his past accomplishments and thanked him for his present contributions to the school.

The celebrations were then extended to St. Peter's Church. There Bishop Peter L. Gerety and four of Brother's former students officiated at a concelebrated Mass. In the course of this Mass, Brother Francis renewed his vows of the previous fifty years.

Following the Mass, a reception and a banquet were held at Friend's Hall. Brother Francis was then presented with more gifts, on behalf of St. Dom's alumni, and fellow staff members. With the money he received, Brother Francis will be able to spend part of the summer touring Europe.

The annual Awards Night of St. Dominic Regional High School was held on Wednesday, May 21, at 7:30 p.m. at St. Joseph's School Auditorium.

The theme of "A New Dawn" was explicitly revealed; for upon the recommendation of the Student Senate, the usual major and minor letters, pins, and certificates of achievement were discarded and replaced by major and minor trophies.

Under the new system each student may achieve a maximum of five points for each extracurricular activity he participated in, and for any scholastic achievements he attains. The trophies are then awarded to the students on the basis of the number of points they have accumulated. To receive a minor trophy a student must earn a total of forty points or more; and for a major trophy, seventy-five points or more are required. Major trophies for Extraordinary Achievements were also awarded to those having earned a total of 100 points or more. In this latter category, there were only three recipients while eight major trophies were given for Outstanding Achievement and 32 minor trophies were given for achievement in the extra-curricular-scholastic field.

The system for the distribution of athletic awards, remained the same with pins being presented to those students who played on a JV team, minor letters to those having played first year varsity or two years on a JV team, and major letters to those having played two years on a varsity team or two years on a JV team and one year varsity.

Trophies were awarded to the Most Valuable players in soccer, hockey, and tennis and also to seniors with outstanding achievement in hockey, tennis and baseball. The "Most Outstanding Player Award," given to Peter Beaulieu, climaxed the distributions of athletic awards.

"Evening in Camelot" is theme of this year's junior-senior prom

"Camelot" was the setting for this year's Junior-Senior Prom held in St. Peter's School Auditorium on May 29. The prom committee, under the direction of Mr. Roland Gosselin and Brother Gary Cormier, S.C., the committee moderator, spent many hours work in preparing the hall for this momentous evening.

The interior of the hall was decorated with gray crepe paper, banners, and shields, giving the effect of a medieval castle. Extending over a portion of the ceiling were red, yellow, and white streamers, and directly below these stood King Arthur's "sword in the stone." A beautiful fountain surrounded by various plants was placed towards the entrance to the hall, along with a brightly colored tent where punch was served.

Upon entering the hall, couples were greeted by the host and hostess, Robert Roy and Mona Grandbois, both of whom were dressed in colorful medieval costumes. Also welcoming the couples were the chaperons for the evening, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Gosselin, and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Baribault.

At 8:00 P.M. the Grand March began, and the Junior-Senior Prom was officially underway.

First graduating class leaves new co-educational school system

The graduates of St. Dominic Regional High School began a busy schedule on Sunday morning, June 8 with the Graduation Mass, celebrated by Father Seguin, prior of the Dominican monastery.

On the following evening, the senior class met at Happy Jack's Restaurant for the Senior Banquet. A smorgasbord supper was served, followed by the introduction of speakers by Paul Gosselin. Sue Baribault, the principal speaker, thanked the faculty in the name of the seniors. Reverend Father Robert Girouard, headmaster, and Brother Richard Boucher, principal, also added brief words of wisdom. This was followed by a dance, with music provided by the Travelers.

Activities came to a climax with the Commencement Exercises on June 10. Paul Gosselin, master of ceremonies, introduced the Salutatorian of the class of 1969. Roger Bergeron expressed appreciation to parents, guests, and benefactors. Diplomas and special awards were then distributed by Father Michael Davis, Pastor of St. Joseph's Church. Denise Berube, Valedictorian, spoke of the importance of man's desire for change and freedom. Dr. Thomas Hedley Reynolds, president of Bates College, delivered the major address, stressing the importance of law and leadership in society.

Academic structure undergoes major transition; new courses introduced in progressive curriculum

When a drastic change occurs over a relatively short length of time, it is known as just that: a drastic change. But for the entire organization of St. Dom's, the change is more aptly stated as "A New Dawn."

The academic structure of the school was especially subject to the major transition. For the first time in the history of St. Dom's, co-ed classes were held. The various departments also offered new and enlightening courses, all of which were open to both girls and boys.

The Social Studies Department, headed by Mrs. Jo-Ann Lapointe, introduced such subjects as Ideology and World Affairs, and Psychology. Freshmen and Sophomores were exposed to a new Physical Science course. The schools Headmaster and head of the Religion Department, Father Girouard, added variety to the marriage course by inviting a number of interesting guest speakers. Under the direction of two full time counselors the Guidance Department proved to be of particular importance.

All this certainly seems to imply a "drastic change" in the structure of the school. More appropriately, the students and faculty have awakened into a New Dawn, a better light to understanding and education.

Business Department offers interesting courses to Dom students

This year's business department is headed by Sister Dominica, who is assistant principal at the Junior Division. The staff members of the department include: Mr. Denis Jean, who teaches business math; Mrs. Reginald Fortin, shorthand, bookkeeping, and business math and; Brother Joseph Etienne, typing.

The department offered interesting courses which focused on one main goal: to meet the demands which the Lewiston business area has to offer and to train its students in a non-technical fashion.

This year a survey was conducted by Husson College to make students aware of various business courses open to them. These include courses such as economics, introduction to finance and salesmanship. Along with these were courses in insurance and social security. The professors from Husson College who were involved in this survey included Miss Thelma Watson and Miss Clara Swan.

Audio-Visuals used extensively by English Dept.; Developmental reading introduced

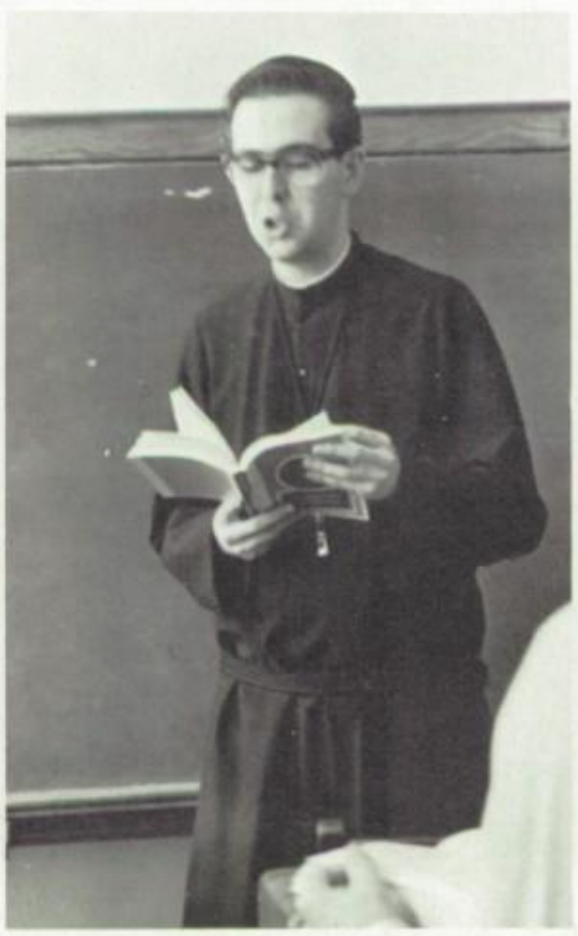
This year's English Department is headed by Brother Gary Cormier, S.C. A graduate of St. Michael's College, Brother Cormier has a B.A. degree in English and is currently working for his Master's at Boston College. He is assisted by Brother Raymond Latour, S.C., Sister Luanus, R.S.M., Sister Emely Jones, P.M. and Mrs. Reginald Fortin.

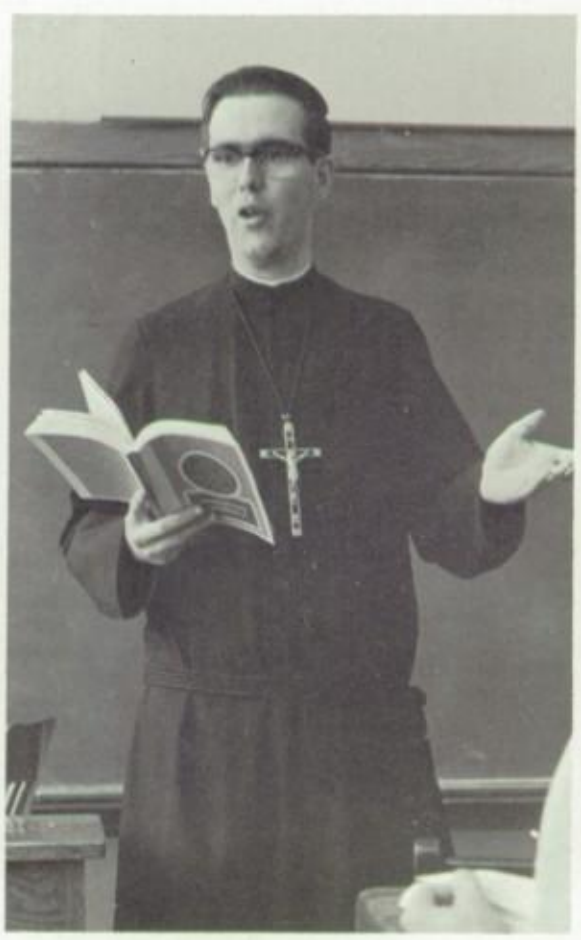
To better provide for the needs of the students the department is organized into two tracts, literature and composition.

The basic goals of the literature courses are to create in the student an appreciation of literature as an art, to acquaint him with the best writers of all time, and to arouse his creative abilities in writing, speaking and reading. Freshman students concentrate on developmental reading in types of literature while the sophomores study English Literature and Literature of the Western World respectively.

The second track, composition, teaches the student how to communicate intelligently, clearly, and effectively. It prepares him for further study in college by developing skills in reading and comprehension. The present composition textbook is being used in part for sophomores, juniors, and seniors.

Records, films, overhead projectors, and transparencies provide extensive help to the students. Outside reading also supplements the English course.





Brother Raymond Latour dramatically portrays the three witches in the play Macbeth.

Two full-time counselors added to staff

Like the school and its various organizations, the guidance department has undergone several changes. Formerly, the guidance department was under the direction of two part-time counselors. This year, however, the guidance directors are full time counselors. Brother Gerard Laflame, S.C., the head of the department, counsels the juniors and seniors, while Sister Charlotte, P.M., a new faculty member, serves as counselor for the freshmen and sophomores.

According to Brother Laflamme, the purpose of the guidance program is to help the student solve his problems. Its services include individual analysis, information on institutes of higher learning, and aid in applying to various colleges.

This year, the Latin Department and the French Department have been combined into a Language Department.

The Latin Department arrived at a new teaching approach. The first year Latin students studied the basics of grammar, while the second year students worked on translations.

The Latin teachers are: Sister Marie Luanus, R.S.M., department head, Brother Gilbert Chamberlain, S.C., and Brother Louis Maurice Janelle, S.C.

Throughout the year, the French Department strove to meet its objectives. These are: to understand the language, to speak it correctly, to read with direct understanding, and to write without conscious reference to English.

For the first time, each pupil was classified according to his experience in the language. Also, new textbooks, and audio-visual aids were used.

The new department members are: Sister Marie Solange, O.S.U., Brother Gilbert Chamberlain, S.C., and Brother Joseph Etienne, S.C., who are all active in the American Association of Teachers of French.

In association with the department, a French Club, "Le Cercle Francais St. Dominique," was organized. Its officers were: Monique Gendron, president; Normand Caron, vice-president, Doreen Parent, secretary, and George Mathieu, treasurer. Sister Solange is club moderator. Other members of the club include: Roger Allen, Daniel Cote, Giles Landry, Jeannine Pelletier and Theresa Roy.

A few of the activities of this year's club were, the presentation of guest speakers, the viewing of filmstrips, and the performance of "Les Precieuses Ridicules," a one-act play by Moliere.

5,000 books acquired

This year, St. Dom's is equipped with two new libraries, both of which are under the direction of a full-time librarian, Brother Francis Jutras, S.C. Recently, over five thousand books have been made available to the students through the Title II Program, a part of federal aid to education. In addition to these books, our libraries also contain encyclopedias, films, recordings, and magazines, as well as references to art and music.

Why have a moral guidance class? According to Brother Richard Boucher S.C., principal, "This is one of the added features of St. Dom's existence to guide each student spiritually and to prepare him for the world he will face tomorrow.

The Hi-Time magazine was used as an aid for moral guidance classes. Students also analyzed records and participated in discussions. Father Robert Girouard also taught a marriage course to the seniors.

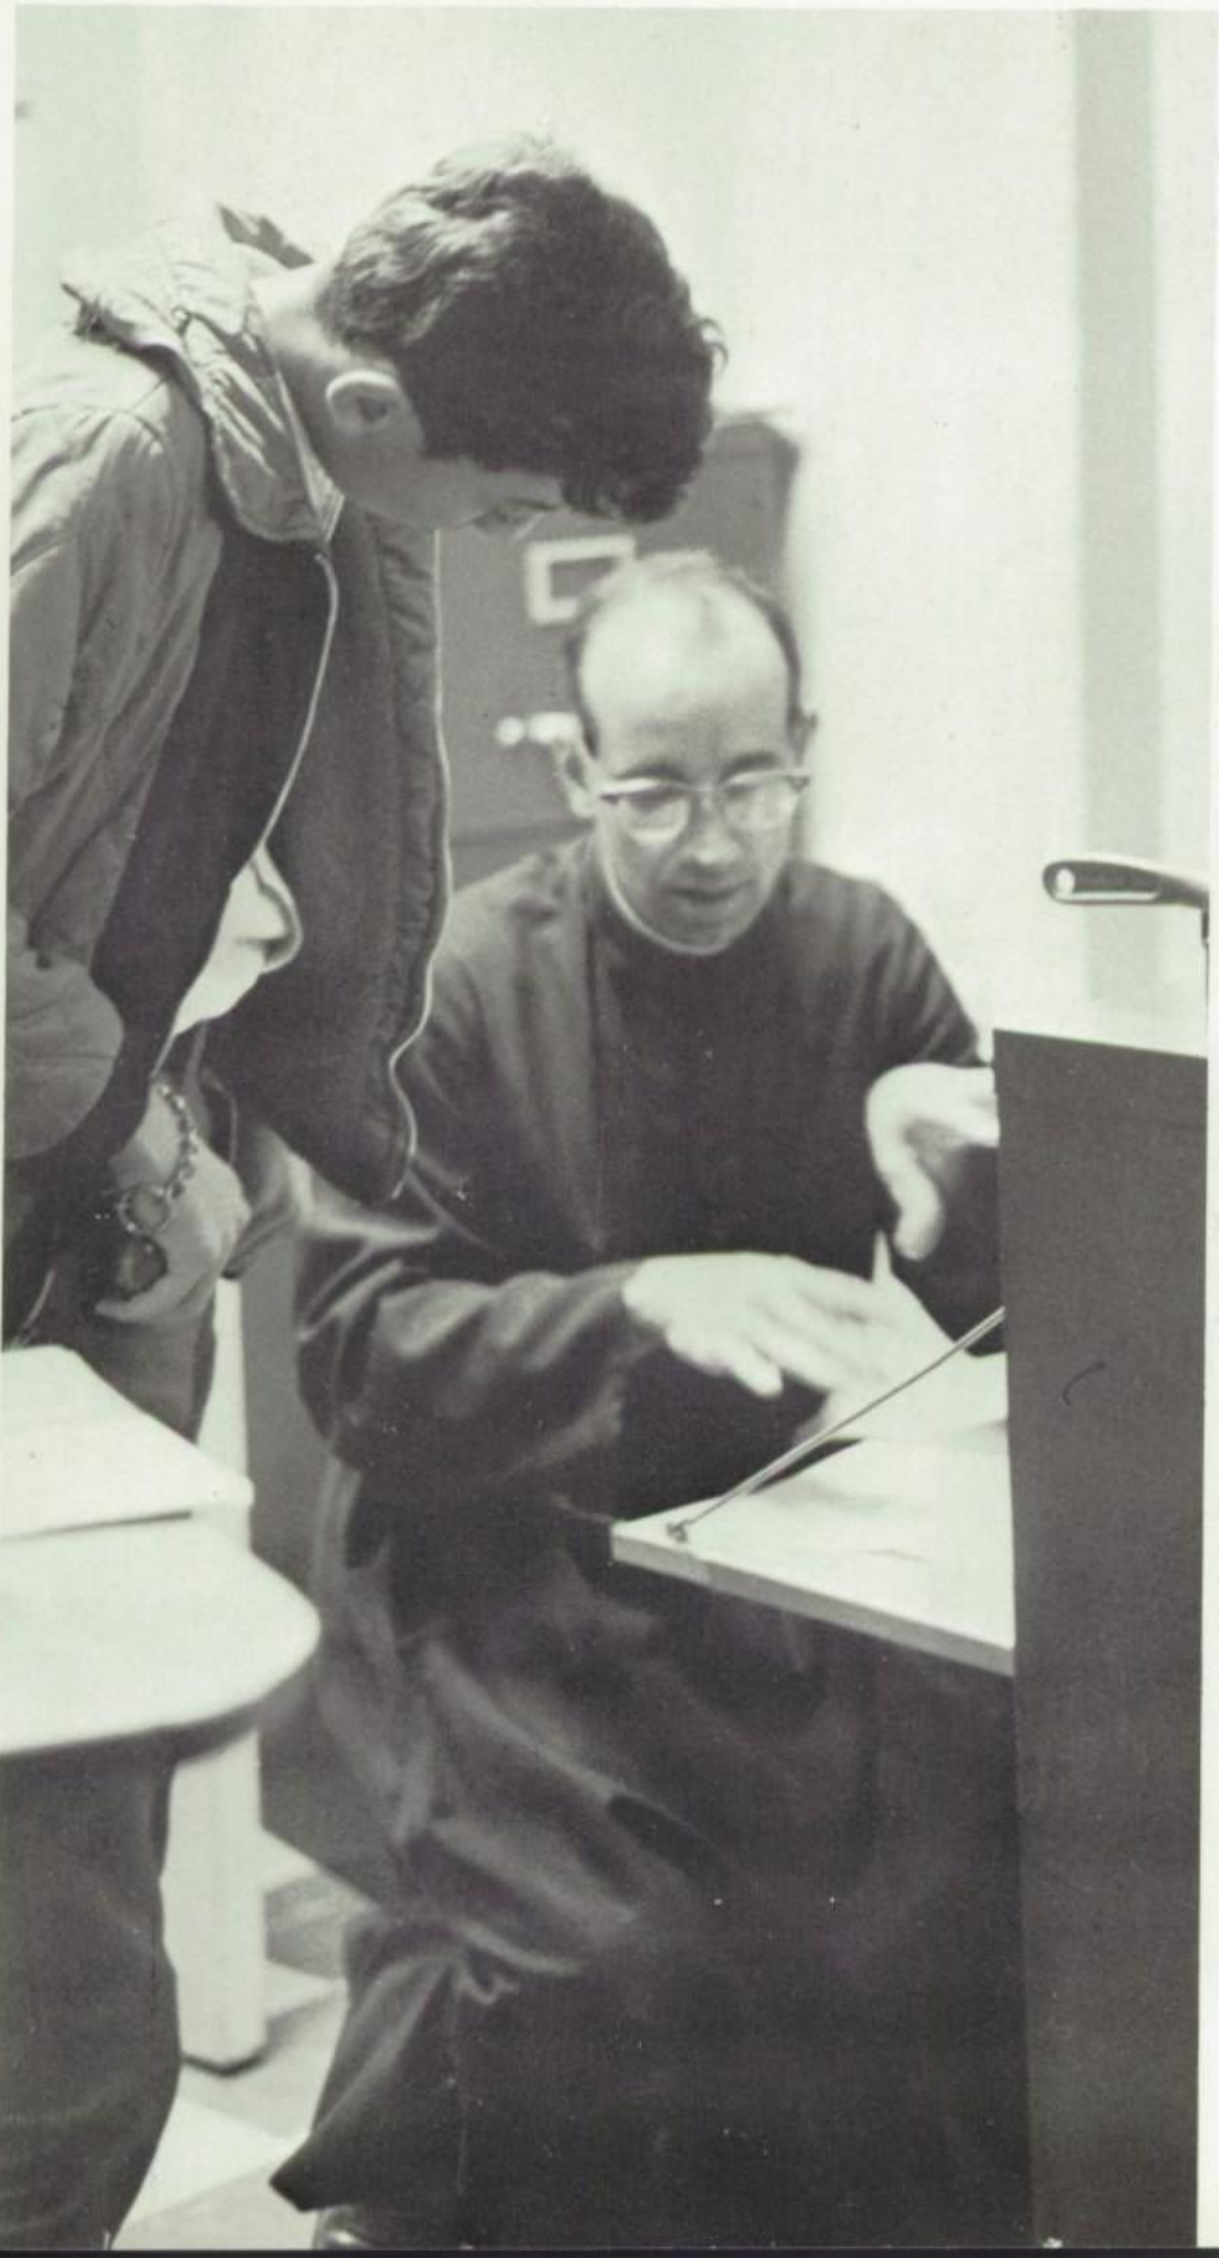
Brother Louis Maurice Janelle, S.C., has been heading the math department for the past two years. Working with him are Brother Richard Dion, S.C., Brother Robert Marcotte, S.C., and Sister St. Paul, C.S.J.

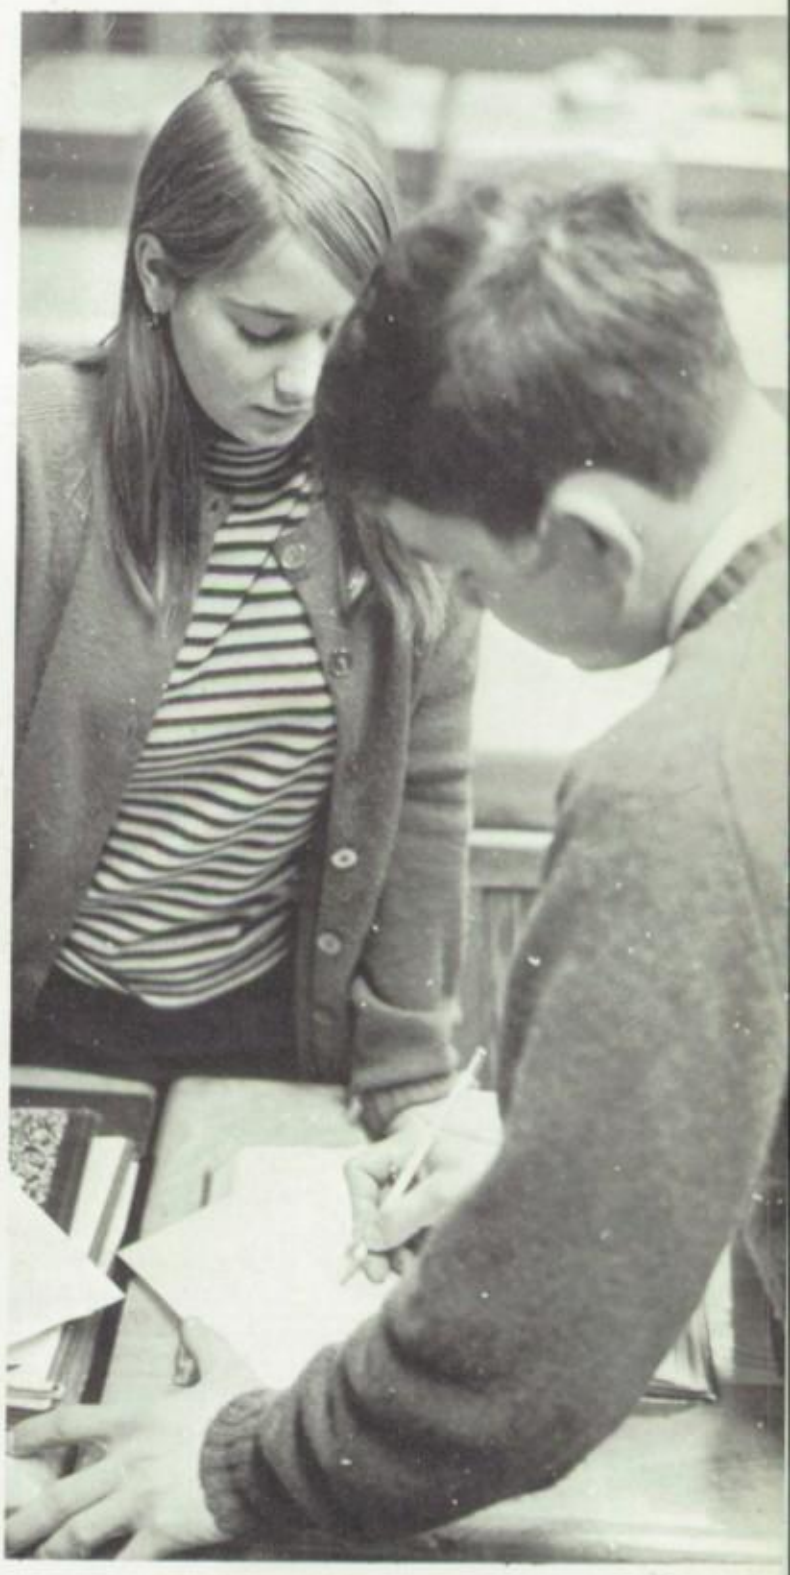
This year the department offers six math courses. Seniors can take either Modern Introductory Analysis, a pre-calculus course, or Trigonometry, a study of logarithms and the functions of a right triangle.

The Juniors are offered Trigonometry or Modern Algebra II, a course in rational and irrational numbers and quadratic relations.

Sophomores study Modern Geometry, based on the Euclidian axioms.

Freshmen may choose between Modern Algebra I, a study of the real number system, or Patterns in Mathematics, a review of elementary math.





Joline Lavoie (above) enthusiastically listens to an explanation given by John Allain. Brother Marcotte (left) runs through the solution of an Algebra problem for Miguel Alves.

B.S.C.S., I.P.S. courses introduced

This year's Biology course, formerly known as Biological Science Curriculum Study, is taught to the Sophomores by Sister Edwina Bouchard, R.S.R. Sister Edwina, a new staff member, received her degree from St. Joseph's College.

The biology course gives an in-depth study of micro-organisms, plants, animals, and the human body.

The relatively new Introductory Physical Science course (I.P.S.) is taught on the Freshman level by Mr. Leonel L'Heureux. Mr. L'Heureux states that the I.P.S. course is a summary of all the sciences of inanimate objects.

Both courses greatly stress the importance of visual aids and experimentation.

Barbara Hamel marvels at the anatomy of the human body.

Sister Edwina aids Suzanne St. Clair in the dissection of a fetus pig.

Ralph Lombard watches the movements of an amoeba.

Pierre Poulin encounters mechanical difficulty while trying to focus his microscope.

Claire Poisson and Liane Pelletier collect data on a physical science experiment.

Mr. L'Heureux assisted by Lee Rossignol prepares an experiment in physical science.

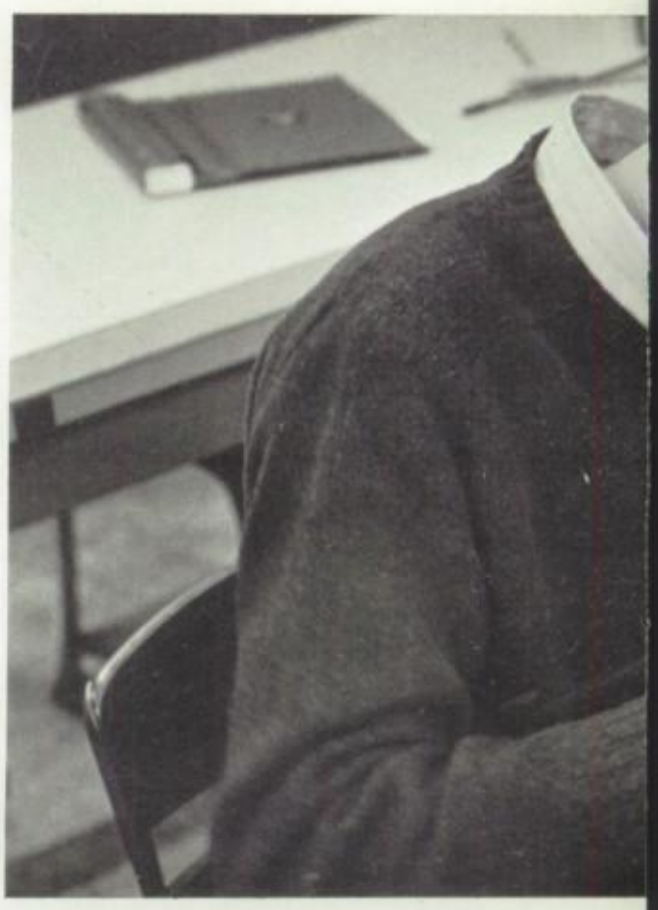
Six-period week favors science department

The head of the Science Department this year is Brother Richard N. Dion, S.C. Brother Dion, a four-year member of St. Dominic's faculty, has attained his B.A. at St. Michael's College and his M.S. at Syracuse University. Brother teaches Physics, the study of matter and energy and their changes.

Another member of the Department, Miss Louise Forgues, teaches "Chem Study", a relatively new advanced course in chemistry. It is the study of matter and its reactions.

This year the department has introduced a "six period week." The extra period is especially helpful in conducting experiments, since it allows more time to properly present necessary information.

The school's science labs are rapidly becoming the best equipped in the area because of the regular purchase of technological equipment. The staff is always on the lookout for films, film strips and transparencies which may help the student in understanding his topic.



Paul Mailhot works on a schematic.

Pamela Proulx, Paul Fournier, Ronald Bisson, John Wyman, and Dennis Michaud intensively watch the outcome of an experiment.

Gerard Castonguay and Robert Gagnon marvel at the efficiency of the ballistic pendulum in physics class.

Micheline LeBlanc and Suzanne Gagne are captured in one of their rare serious moments as they contemplate on a crucial game of tic-tac-toe during chemistry lab.

Social Studies emphasizes creative thinking

"History is to be considered in the broadest terms of art, religion, philosophy, economics, and political science. Its goals are to expose students to life in today's world." These are the words of Mrs. Jo-Ann Lapointe, the head of this year's Social Studies Department.

The social studies curriculum includes four courses: American History, Comparative Governments, Civics, and Sociology.

The American History course, taught to the sophomores, juniors, and seniors by Mrs. Lapointe and Brother Edward Kenney, covers topics from the discovery of America to the policies of the Johnson Administration.

"Ideology and World Affairs" is the comparative government course, presented on the freshman level by Brother Chamberlain, Mr. Jean and Mr. Plourde, and senior level by Mrs. Lapointe.

"Civil Liberties", presented exclusively to the freshman classes, complements the ideology course. Like the comparative governments course, civil liberties is presented for only one semester. Likewise, the sociology course, "Human Behavior," is presented to the Senior class as follow-up of the ideology course.

Brother Kenney explains the requirements of a paper on the Civil War to Theresa Rioux as the sophomore class works at the Lewiston Public Library.

Good sportsmanship and desire to win spark Dom teams; new look seen in sports' department.

Although the "New Dawn" was not as evident in athletics as in other departments, there were nevertheless a few changes.

For the first time, a girls' tennis team was added to athletics. Also for the first time, our cheerleaders rallied fan support at the soccer games. In baseball, a junior varsity team was organized. Finally, plans were made to organize a girls' field hockey team for next year.

Aside from these, our four established sports have remained unchanged. Although the varsity soccer team did not have a strong year, the J.V. team was undefeated. This was definitely an indication of a successful varsity in '69. Our hockey team took advantage of great skating talent and finished second in the state playoffs. This came as a great surprise to everyone, for the team was not even expected to finish in high standing. This year, more than ever, the team's good sportsmanship was a source of pride for St. Dom's.

The tennis team continued its winning ways, and had a very successful year in both varsity and junior varsity ranks. The baseball team displayed much enthusiasm, and finished higher than teams of the past few years. The J.V. team served to help build the varsity for the future.

All in all, the school again had reason to be proud of its athletic department. In all sports, the players displayed great enthusiasm, good sportsmanship, and a desire to win which gave fans a reason to be proud of their team.

S.D. cheerleaders take on new duties.

In addition to leading the fans and boosting school spirit, the cheerleaders of '68-'69 made a few changes from the traditional. For the first time, the girls cheered at most of the soccer games. They also obtained new skirts for the hockey season and new, somewhat smaller emblems. Finally, stripes signifying the number of years the girls have been on the squad were also added to the uniform.

In conjunction with the Key Club, the cheerleaders sponsored a bonfire on the night of the Round Robin. They also put on a rally the day of the first St. Dom's-Lewiston game.

The two substitutes for this year were Linda Cote and Marlene Jalbert.

Louise Gelinas gasps during a tense moment as the opponents attempt a score.

Linda Cote is jubilant as the team scores.

Tennis team captures division championship; ranks 3rd in state

Champions! That was the title that this year's tennis team well earned. The six man squad proved its strength and experience in its pre-season opener with Edward Little. This 8-1 victory paved the road for many victories to come.

The varsity team played a total of 18 games and won all but one pre-season match against South Portland.

With its final victory on May 25th over Skowhegan, the St. Dom's team earned the title of division champions by winning all eight of its league matches.

South Portland became the Southern Division Champions and in a post-season match on rain swept courts the two division leaders battled for the title of league champs. St. Dom's lost the match and became league runner-up.

In the State Interscholastic Tournament held at Deering Oaks in Portland, Dom's netmen also showed strength and came home with honors. The team finished third among all the schools entered while special honors went to Roger Gagne who climbed the ladder all the way to runner-up in the singles competition. In the semi-finals Roger won to Tom Duman who for 2 previous years had knocked Roger out in the semi-final rounds. In the finals this year Roger lost to Morrell from Brunswick High School.

According to Brother Gerald Laflamme, S.C., the varsity coach, the team owes its success to its experience.

For the Junior Varsity team it was a less hectic season with a lighter schedule of only eight matches. The team finished the season with a final record of 3.5. This year's new Junior Varsity coach was Brother Gary Cormier, S.C.

A new scene of the tennis courts this year was (skirts and not only shorts) a girls team headed by their coach Mr. Denis Jean. This was the first year for the girl's tennis team at St. Doms.

Much determination is shown by Paul Dussault as he slams a serve to his opponent.

Great comeback highlights hockey season; team 2nd in state

Behind captain Gary Martin and his assistant captains Peter Beaulieu and Roger Gagne, the Saints gained a well-respected 2nd place position in the State Tournaments.

This team's fast-breaking and exciting strategy was created by Coach Andy Gagne and his assistant Coach, Denis Latulippe. This unique style of playing lifted the Doms to double victories over Lewiston, Brunswick and Edward Little, defeating each of these teams in both the regular season and the state play-offs. Fans jammed their cheering section at the CMYC and also backed their team on the away games. The cheerleaders' optimism rallied the team and animated the fans. The spirit that the cheerleaders created was definitely rewarded by the team's spectacular finish.

The Senior line of Beaulieu-Gagne-Michaud accounted for 124 points. Roger Gagne led the way with 31 goals and 18 assists. Pete Beaulieu was the team's second highest scorer and best playmaker with a team high 27 assists. Marcel Roy displayed stylish goal tending in turning back 877 shots during the season while maintaining a 29.2 average.

The Saints' heavy 30 game schedule started on November 27 in Waterville and ended March 8 at the CMYC. The 17 players who qualified as varsity players include six seniors, eight juniors, two sophomores and one freshman.

The 1968-69 junior varsity team summed up the season with a 6-9-1. The team's top four scorers accounted for 35 goals led by Roger Blais (12 goals), Gary Bilodeau (10 goals), Dan Bazinet (7 goals), and Roger St. Denis (6 goals).

Goalies Gilbert Jean and Romeo Turcotte stopped 282 pucks from denting the nets. The team scored 50 goals on opposing teams while allowing 51 goals to be scored against them.

Soccer team starts strong, loses wind in second half of season

St. Dom's has participated in competitive soccer for the fifth consecutive year. The varsity soccer squad compiled a 3-8-2 record.

This year's varsity team lost half of its games by one point. The outstanding quality of this team, captained by Peter Beaulieu and his co-captain Michael Gagne, was its teamwork. Ten players contributed to the offensive attack with either a score or an assist.

The junior varsity soccer team earned an unprecedented record of eleven victories. This team was led by a powerful offensive, for which Roger Theriault scored thirteen goals and Eugene Reny assisted eight times.

The junior varsity bombed their opponents with 56 goals, while allowing only six to be scored on them. Gilbert Jean, the junior varsity goalie, had five shutouts to his credit.

Although the playing season didn't start until September 25, the season really started on September 9, when the players reported to the field for their first practice.

Brother Edward Kenney, the team moderator, reported that the practice went well, and that there was really no significant difference in this year's method of practice from former years.'

There were some 50 fans in attendance at each game, along with the cheerleaders who rallied the team on to victory.

Co-ed system invades extracurriculars with great success; another example of "New Dawn" noted

Under the new co-educational system at St. Dom's, "A New Dawn" has risen in many of the extracurricular activities. Previously segregated, many have now emerged to form one club, whereby, both guys and gals get together and share ideas. Such organizations as Student Senate, Debate, Future Teachers, and Christian Action, have been integrated with a great degree of success. Several other organizations have remained either all-boy or all-girl, due to the nature of the club's activities. This group includes Key Club, Interact, Mission Club, Future Nurses, and the newly formed Keyette Club. In addition to the Keyettes, several clubs came into existence as of this year. These include the French Club, the Stamp Club, and the Drama Club. So, with merging of some clubs, and the development of new ones, a "New Dawn" has truly risen pertaining to the extracurriculum.

Mission club collects cards, stamps, drugs; cake sale boosts revenues for postal rates

The moderator of this year's Mission Club, Sister St. Paul S.S.J., stated that, "The Mission Club has a two-fold purpose: To make the members aware of the needs of others and to share with less fortunate people." To fulfill these two purposes, Sister St. Paul provided several films dealing with poverty in numerous distant countries. The members then gathered articles, including school supplies, greeting cards, stamps, and clothing to send to these underprivileged nations. They also made children's clothing which was sent to the missions.

This year's initial project, however, was raising the money needed for postal rates. To raise this money the club sponsored a cake sale in December. The profits were used to mail packages to a leper colony in the Philippines and to missions in Japan and Haiti. The students also sent clothing to several Indian reservations in the United States and they mailed boxes of medicine to a mission in St. Johnsbury.

'69 Echo chooses "A New Dawn" as theme

Work began on the 1968-69 yearbook with the selection of a staff of 36 in May of '68. In June, Brother Louis Maurice Janelle, S.C., advisor, accompanied Sandra Roy, Maurice Gardner, and Paul Gosselin to a workshop at the University of Maine.

In September, the department heads were named. Denise Berube, Maurice Gardner, and Paul Gosselin were chosen co-editors. Layout editors were Paul Dussault and Paul Fournier, while Linda Guerrette was placed in charge of academics. Mona Grandbois was responsible for organizations, and Donat Boisvert and Maurice Plourde were named sports editors. Louise Barriault and Dennis Michaud were class editors, and Linda Cote was placed in charge of student life. Sandra Roy was picture editor, and Doreen Parent was named business manager. Photographers were Robert Asselin and Sandra Roy, and the typists were Louise Gelinas and Diane Jalbert.

These staffs all set to work, and the theme for the ECHO "A New Dawn" was chosen. Three deadlines were set up to assure a fall delivery.

Student editorials featured in J.S.P.

Again this year, student writers were given an opportunity by the Lewiston Evening Journal to publicize the news within the school on the Journal School Page.

The writing staff consisted of five teams, made up of juniors and seniors. The student editors were: Denise Berube, Pamela Proulx, Donat Boisvert, Paul Gosselin, and Maurice Plourde. The faculty advisor is Brother Gary Cormier, S.C., while Johnny Robinson, of the Evening Journal, serves as coordinator.

Each Friday evening, articles from Lewiston and Edward Little High Schools, as well as from St. Dom's, appear. These include news and feature articles on activities, forum articles to display student opinion, and editorials, which enable the students to speak out on controversial issues.

The Journal School Page provides an opportunity for students and parents to learn what is going on within the high schools of the twin cities, and it also gives students the experience of constructive writing.

"Hip Hippie Hooray" staged by new group of Thespians is a smashing success

The newly formed Drama Club, under the direction of Brother Raymond Latour, S.C., made a successful bid in the production of the three-act play written by James Rodgers. The play, entitled "Hip Hippie Hooray" portrayed a square, small town girl who goes to the hippie district, Haight Ashbury, in search of her younger brother. There, she opens a free restaurant called the "Eat-in." The climax is the heated debate between the girl and her brother where the true meaning of the play is revealed.

Two performances were held, the first on December 22, with more than 500 people attending and again on January 5. For both performances, Mr. Roland Gosselin coordinated the make-up crew.

Projects for the latter part of the year included the staging of a "triology," a group of three one-act plays, with a special performance put on for the benefit of the student body. One of the plays, "Echo" was entered into the State Principal's Association One Act Play Contest.

Ski Club enjoys 2nd year of winter fun

Under the direction of Gerry Castonguay, president, and Lucille Boisvert, vice-president, the St. Dom's Ski Club has enjoyed its second year of winter activity.

The club began by inviting Mr. George Ouellette, host of "Ski Trails" as guest speaker. On December 8, the first trip was held at Sunday River. A second trip was planned for Dec. 29 to "Saddleback." Two other trips, both to Wildcat, had to be canceled due to the lack of members. A final trip was then scheduled for February 23 as the climax for the winter recess.

New Bag — Stamps!

Although a new and relatively small group, the Stamp Club members are enthusiastic and take pride in belonging to this organization. From the outset, the objective of Sr. Charlotte P. M., the moderator, has been to help those who are interested in starting a stamp collection and encourage those who already have one. Those just beginning were taught the basic fundamentals about stamp collecting and given ideas on how to obtain stamps. The members familiar with stamps and having a collection get down to serious bargaining, helping both the other members and themselves. At the end of the year everyone was optimistic in acquiring some rare beauties during the summer months.

Consideration leads to service for both school and community

Interact members listen attentively as a guest from Austria speaks of her home country.

This year's Interact Club, though working with a small membership, has accomplished many of its goals and built a solid foundation for the future.

The club's first project and major fund raising drive was a giant pumpkin sale held on the final Sunday before Halloween when nearly 5,000 pounds of pumpkins were sold.

Throughout the year, Interact stressed community participation. Members worked in the "Clean Up the Riverbank campaign," the "United Fund Campaign," the "Get Out the Vote Campaign," and the "Flouridation Drive." Also, many members visited the elderly at the Marcotte Home and a select group of Interact Clubbers attended the Model Cities meetings.

Within the school itself, Interact members helped set up chairs for the First Friday Masses and sponsored a New Year's Eve party for juniors and seniors.

Being more than a service club, Interact strove to fulfill its goal of international understanding. The club communicated with the St. Joseph's College Interact Club of Hong Kong. Also, many guest speakers, including an Austrian foreign exchange student and a Bates College student from Kenya, spoke before regular club meetings.

Plans for a trip to Quebec in 1970 were initiated at the end of the school year.

Key Club continues service towards needy groups and public

". . . to build my home, school and community; to serve my Nation and God and combat all forces which tend to undermine these institutions."

This excerpt from the membership pledge taken by each Key Clubber summarizes the purpose and objectives of Key Club.

The long list of school projects accomplished in the past year includes: preparing seating arrangements at the new division, painting and arranging books at the new library, mowing and lining the soccer field, and staging a bonfire rally. Besides these, the upkeep of the school buildings was a continual job for the members.

The Key Club also sponsored a Halloween party for over 200 persons at the Pineland Hospital, organized two large paper drives in the Twin Cities, collected articles for the annual Kiwanis Auction, and made friendly visits to the people in the Marcotte Home for the elderly. Members also answered the call of the Church by reading epistles, passing for the Sunday collections and working as parking lot attendants. Finally, they served the community by participating in a "get out and vote" campaign and the pro-floridation drive.

Initial year's success is possible through hard work and strong determination

Among the many new clubs introduced at Saint Dom's this past year was the Keyettes, a girl's service club.

Basically, the year was devoted to the writing of a constitution. However, the Keyettes were very active in both the community and the school.

At Christmas, with the aid of the Child and Family Service, the Keyettes prepared and delivered clothing and baskets of food to two needy families. The girls served at several suppers for the school and for the benefit of the deaf. Also, they entertained and wrote letters for the elderly at the Marcotte Home. In co-operation with the Key Club, the Keyettes gave a Halloween party for the children at Pineland Hospital and Training Center. For the Lewiston Knights of Columbus Council, the members passed out fliers at local churches, announcing a variety show for the benefit of the Seminarian Trust Fund of Maine.

For fund-raising projects, the Keyettes held two food sales; the money will be used to send supplies to the people of Biafra.

This newly-organized club, in the capable hands of its officers, hopes to be of more service in the next few years.

Forensics prepares students for effective expression of ideas

As a final step the new Forensic Club, with its co-moderators Brothers Raymond Latour and Sister Emely Jones, set out to increase its membership to all potential members on whether or not students should be allowed to wear white socks.

It was through this entire effort that the club was able to establish an all-around good record for the year with the school winning second place at Bowdoin College Annual Debate Forum and another second place at Notre Dame H.S. Novice Debate Tournament.

As a result of an effort to increase its participation in interscholastic speaking events, this year's debate team traveled a total of 3,100 miles to attend various speech contests and debate tournaments throughout New England.

This effort began during the summer vacation period when several students had the opportunity to take part in the Bates College Debate Institute and the University of Maine Debate Institute in Orono. These courses allowed the students to gain some understanding of the principles and techniques of debating and to do research on this year's national topic. Resolved; That the U.S. Should Establish a System of National Service by All Citizens.

The debate team's next step led it to become more appropriately called the Forensic Club since it has taken on a wide range of interscholastic activities including: poetry reading, dramatic and humorous interpretation, extemporaneous and impromptu speaking, original oratory as well as cross-examination debating.

Dances successful; students enthused

Due to the enthusiasm of the dance committee and the support of the student body, the dances were very successful this. year. Under the direction of the co-chairmen, Philip Perreault and Paulette Dugal, the dance committee held dances every three weeks with the top local bands.

In addition to the prom and winter carnival, the dance committee members decorated the auditorium for a Christmas dance.

The majority of the students on the prom committee were also members of the dance committee. With the co-operation of dedicated students, the prom committee put long, laborious hours into the decorations and scenes.

Tomorrow's Society changes name; comes out with new sound

"Would you believe I forgot the words" exclaims Phil Gagne.

This year's folk group saw the greatest revisions ever, for only two members of last year's group, Rachel Drouin and Linda Guerrette, remained to carry on the sound. Tryouts were held at the beginning of the year to choose talented students who were interested in rebuilding "The Group," as it was then known. The completely formed group consisted of: Danny Bazinet, Pete Beaulieu, Greg Bridges, Bob Drouin, Phil Gagne, Linda Guerrette, Claude Maheu, Gisele Maheu, Aleta Saunders, and Brother Louis Janelle. Then in mid-February, an electric bass, now played by Ray Dallaire, was found to be an important asset to creating the complete sound.

With such a new and lively group, the members were quick to see the lack of freshness and life in the group's name. A contest was held. With the help of Sharon Rossignol's suggestion, "Tomorrow's Society" was declared as the name of St. Dom's folk group.

The first break came on February 9th, when Jim Aikman, manager of WPNO, invited "Tomorrow's Society" to do an hour-long radio show. It provided an excellent opportunity to announce their February 14th hootennany where they would welcome three other local groups. April saw "Tomorrow's Society" singing for LTD Productions, for the Bliss College Survival Campaign, for the Diocesan Board of Directors meeting at Kennebunkport, and for the Christian Action's Spring Fling. In May, at the request of the manager of the Shawmut Inn in Kennebunkport, "Tomorrow's Society" made a return trip to do a special program for the hotel's guests. Throughout the year, the groups not only sang at the school's folk masses, but traveled to various churches offering their music for folk masses.

Christian Action

The Christian Action Group, under the direction of Bro. Raymond Latour, was off to a lively start this year when several members of the group attended the Summer Institute of Christian Action held at Saint Francis College in Biddeford, Maine.

In October, fifty C. A. members traveled to Marie-Joseph Academy in Biddeford, Maine to attend a recollection day, better known as a "People Happening."

December found the Christian Action Group coordinating its efforts with the Student Senate, in "Operation-Good-Cheer," where Christmas baskets were delivered to needy families in the Lewiston-Auburn area.

On March 26, the group participated in an Interfaith Passover Meal held at the United Baptist Church in Lewiston.

April 26 marked the day of a "Spring Fling" held in Lewiston in which Christian Action members from all over Maine participated. A "first" for Lewiston, the day was highlighted by a presentation of anti-abortion petitions with over 4,000 signatures to Representative Louis Jalbert of Lewiston, and a "protest" march (for people).

Besides all these events, members of the group have been active in working with the handicapped at Garcelon School, teaching CCD on the grammar school level, preparing scrapbooks for the deaf children at the Deaf Children's Center in Portland, working as a "Big Brother" or "Big Sister" to a needy child, and doing volunteer work at the local hospitals.

August was another eventful month for some of the Christian Action members, since several attended a Baptist Youth Conference for one week, and then returned to the SICA at Saint Francis College for another full week of activity.

One of the many high school students who participated in the Christian Action's "Positive Protest March" expresses the typical philosophy of our generation.

Teaching and nursing clubs inform members on future careers.

Cecile Lebel is quest speaker at one of the Future Teachers' regular meetings.

The purpose of the Future Nurses' Club is to offer students who wish to enter the field of nursing a chance to take a more profound look at the profession. Headed by Denise Berube, this year's program included films covering different aspects of medicine, lectures by various professionals, and tours of several St. Mary's Hospital departments. A Christmas project at the Sarah Frye Nursing Home, and participation in the Maine Nursing Student Association were also part of the Future Nurses' schedule.

The Future Teachers' Club also offered its members an opportunity to better acquaint themselves with the teaching profession. The club achieved this goal by inviting a number of speakers, and by encouraging class observation and practice teaching. Headed by Monique Gendron, the club held a "leg contest" and a raffle in an effort to raise money for their newly formed scholarship fund. This year, the Future Teachers' Club also became affiliated with the National Future Teachers of America.

In May, these two career clubs sponsored a card party in a joint money-raising project.

Senate changes purpose; improves student faculty relationships

This year's Student Senate has undergone a few changes, including the changing of its name from Student Council to Student Senate. Another change was a complete revision of the constitution, in order to clarify the function of the group and to establish a set of rules governing its procedure.

One of the earlier accomplishments was the changing of the reception of class rings from the junior to the sophomore year. The Senate also coordinated the annual Christmas basket drive with the assistance of the service clubs.

In February, the main project was the complete planning of the Winter Carnival. The Senate also made a recommendation proposing voluntary participation in the Science Fair. This was referred to the Science Department for study next year.

Another accomplishment was the nomination of Sue Baribault as the school's candidate for Snowmobile Queen. With the students' support, Sue was elected queen.

Later in the year, the Student Senate effected a major change concerning Awards Night. It also planned Senior Week and determined the selection of speakers at graduation.

Veritas informs students on school events.

Throughout the year, the "Veritas" has covered school activities and has enabled students to become aware of the events occurring within the school.

This year's paper was edited by members of the junior English Composition classes, and was under the direction of Brother Gary Cormier, S.C.

The "Veritas" was divided into four major sections. The first of these contained news articles about upcoming events. The next division of the paper concerned itself with feature articles, forum questions, and the "in-focus" to entertain, as well as inform, the readers. Another section was devoted to the school activities and organizations. It reported on the past and future projects of various clubs. The final section of the "Veritas" was concerned with sports activities and reports on their progress, as well as information about upcoming games.

From the old to the new — both administration and faculty departments compelled to expand

As the students of St. Dom's awoke to a "new dawn" in 1969, so too did the faculty confront a new variety of experiences and opportunities. With the departure of the Dominican nuns, and the rising cost of Catholic education, many became convinced that the only practical as well as economical solution to St. Dom's problem was that of a regional, co-educational high school. Therefore, many faculty members were, for the first time, faced with girls as well as boys on that "first day" in September. With decidedly more reserve, they embarked on the task of educating co-ed classes. What followed could be described as initially tense, eventually hilarious, and thoroughly informative.

The nuns were also faced with a "new dawn." Theirs, was an experience in inter-community living. Eight nuns representing five religious orders established a convent where each could share not only her personality, but also her rules and her religious background. And so, these brothers and sisters, as well as six lay teachers, committed themselves to guiding St. Dom's through its period of revolution.

However, the faculty was not alone in its spirit of change, as the administration also experienced a "new dawn." For the first time, an assistant principal, Sister Mary Dominica R. S. M., was chosen to aid Brother Boucher in fulfilling the educational needs of the students. A headmaster, Reverend Robert Girouard, was also appointed as administrator to the financial as well as spiritual aspect of the school.

Yes, faculty and administration alike have truly awakened to a "new dawn." Undeniably, their initial reactions were those of apprehension and restraint. Yet, before long, these emotions became ease and acceptance. As the sunrise brings light to a new day, so too did a "new dawn" bring life into St. Dom's.

Senior class faces responsibility of uniting school under co-ed system

As the world around us is being caught up in constant revolution, so too was change brought into the life of St. Dom's. In our own little society, everyone experienced a "New Dawn", a year of change. Organizations, academic departments, and underclassmen couldn't help but feeling the effects of going co-ed.

But of all concerned, it was the seniors who felt the fullest impact of the "New Dawn". After three years of segregation, most seniors anticipated the change with mixed emotions. The girls, accustomed to small informal classes initially reacted with a defensive attitude. Knowing that their courses were tougher, and accustomed to saying what they thought, the boys reacted with slight superiority and definite restraint. But it didn't take long for the girls to drop their guard and for the boys to feel more at ease. By June everyone marveled at the full benefit of the "New Dawn".

As the graduates walked together to receive their diplomas as the first co-ed graduating class, something changed. Twilight came, and thus marked the preparation for another dawn, another year.

(bottom right) Paul Dussault finally decides that it is about time that Edouard Plourde learns what "Veritas Vitae" (facts of life) is all about.

The spirit of a "New Dawn" was also present among the underclassmen. Of the many changes they faced, some were immediately accepted while others promised slow adjustment.

To the freshmen, high school life presented a new challenge in studies, in social life, and in activities. For the sophomores and juniors, the co-educational system introduced a new outlook on school. Initially apprehensive, both boys and girls soon saw that the new system enriched their classes and extracurricular activities.

This year, the freshmen and sophomores were housed in the Junior Division, while the juniors and seniors occupied the Senior Division. Although this hindered communication between student factions, it was necessary in the light of co-education.

Another change which greatly affected the underclassmen was the rotation of classes. This gave the teachers an opportunity to gear the classrooms to their respective courses. It also provided students with a change of atmosphere, a break in an otherwise monotonous routine.

After they had had time to adjust, the light of a "New Dawn" truly began to shine on the underclassmen of St. Dom's.

Unselfish cooperation and support of Twin City patrons make successful yearbook possible

These next few pages are dedicated to the generous firms, friends, and alumni of our Twin Cities, without whom this book could not have been published. These sponsors represent the actual growth of the Lewistown-Auburn area. When viewing the histories of the Twin Cities, their "NEW DAWN" stands out as a great transition from the past to the present.

From a large New England plantation first settled by Moses Little and Jonathan Bagley of Massachusetts in 1768, Lewiston was finally incorporated into a city in 1861. From a town with one school house, Lewiston has become the seat of 12 elementary schools, 2 junior high schools, 2 senior high schools, and Bates College. From the first cotton mill established in 1836, that industry has blossomed into a large textile mill, Bates Manufacturing Company.

Auburn, first settled in 1765 by Captain John Marsh, became a city in 1869. It is the home of 7 elementary schools, 2 junior high schools, Edward Little High School, Auburn Maine School of Commerce, and many large shoe factories. We are proud that our "sister city" has been chosen as an All-American City, and is celebrating its centennial this year.

Both cities have flourished since their settlements over 100 years ago. Credit must be given where it is due: to the citizens of Lewiston and Auburn, to the charitable owners of their companies, to our friends and alumni who have kindly shown their good will. To them goes the appreciation for helping the Twin Cities experience a "NEW DAWN."

A scene (left) of the Lewiston downtown area recovering from a vicious snowstorm. (below) Many a visitor has walked down Lisbon Street at night where peace prevails. (bottom) Business is always booming at Benoit's, one of Lewistown's more fashionable stores.

Dawn turns to dusk;
and so we end.
The challenge has been met;
history recorded.
We've learned many things;
felt many things;
seen many things.
We've enjoyed it.
The sun sets;
a new tomorrow awaits those who follow.
